

NATIVE INSTRUMENTS RELEASES FREE TRAKTOR PRO 3.2 UPDATE

“The Harmonic Mixing Update” introduces a series of new features designed to make mixing in key easier.

Berlin, July 2nd, 2019 – Native Instruments today releases a free update to their flagship DJ software, TRAKTOR PRO 3.

The update is designed to help users mix in key and make their sets more musical – choosing tracks that share compatible keys, and using key changes as a way to creatively program their sets.

To coincide with the release, TRAKTOR have teamed up with Chris Liebing to create a video where he gives his take on harmonic mixing, and take users through what’s new.

Dubbed ‘The Harmonic Mixing Update,’ the free update integrates the new Elastique 3.3 keylock algorithm for sharper transients and more presence when pitching up or down.

There’s also a new dedicated control for pitching up or down by semitones, with an integrated display of the resulting key.

The update means DJs can much more easily extend the range of tracks that match harmonically.

Tracks which match the track on the master deck are now highlighted in the browser section, meaning it’s much faster and easier to mix in key.

The update also sees a +6dB boost to the headphone output on the TRAKTOR KONTROL S4 across the entire range of the Cue Mix.

TRAKTOR PRO 3.2 is available to all TRAKTOR PRO 3 users, and can be installed via Native Access.
